

Create your program

WHO: What populations need additional support in your college, division, or department?
WHAT: What support (events, programs, people) do these students need? Dream big and then determine what's realistic. Temporarily cast limitations aside.
HOW: How might your college, division, or department create this support for students?
RESOURCES : What resources (e.g. people, finances, time, expertise, skillset) do you need to make this real?

CHALLENGES: What challenges do you anticipate with creating, recruiting, implementing, and retaining this program?	WHERE: Where should this support reside (e.g. virtually (social media, web presence, etc.), in-person (where on campus can this occur and how might location signal value to your students?)?
ASSESSMENT: How will you measure success and assess what needs to be improved? How often will you assess this program?	ASSESSMENT: How will you measure success and assess what needs to be improved? How often will you assess this program?
